The MIRROR of '47

PUNXSUTAWNEY HIGH SCHOOL
PUNXSUTAWNEY - PENNSYLVANIA

THE 1947

"Behold I Show You An Open Door Which None Shall Shut"

MIRROR

Our Aim

It is the aim of the 1947 Staff of the Mirror to present, through picture and recording, a faithful and accurate portrayal of the opportunities which are offered us in Punxsutawney High School, and by that portrayal, to show that we are trained to fill places of responsibility and usefulness in the world of today.

In developing this theme, we have tried to show that many doors are open to us. Within the doors of our buildings, all of us have had the chance to develop those talents which will shape our careers. We believe the work we have done here is important. It has taught us not only to make a living, but also to enjoy life.

Dedication

With deep appreciation and gratitude, we, the class of 1947, respectfully dedicate this Mirror to Miss Myra S. Brown. Because she is a scholar at heart and has a genuine interest in education, she takes a sincere interest in us and in our problems. She has greatly influenced our intellectual development by directing our thoughts in the proper channels and by teaching us to recognize straight thinking. Miss Brown has endeared herself to students and teachers alike, because she is modestly unconscious of her ability, is considerate of others, and has a keen sense of humor.

For many years Miss Brown has rendered invaluable instruction in her Latin classes, and has offered capable leadership in the Latin Club. Since we can offer no worthy reward, we are deeply honored to pay tribute to Miss Brown, in even a small way, by dedicating to her this 1947 Mirror.

Doorway to Guidance, Resourcefulness, and Courage

The teachers and administrators of our school have proved to be well trained and tested, firm, exacting, and faithful. They have opened the doors to guidance, resourcefulness, and courage. We know that, when we desire counsel, our teachers will gladly help us. By their courage to teach what they feel is right, the teachers and administrators instill in us a self-discipline, resourcefulness, and ambition that we shall never lose. The contributions they have made to the forces that build our characters will last long and reach far out into the work we follow when we leave high school days behind us. Our teachers kindle in us the sparks of ambition which will grow steadily brighter.

A school day begins

ADMINISTRATION

Seated—George P. Grube, D. Raymond Thomas, John M. Harvey.
Standing—James M. Coble, H. Thomas Jack, Frank Harl, Ned L. Brown.

Board of Education

The administration of our schools is a vast undertaking. The seven men who make up the Board of Education give freely of their time and efforts to the all-important task of operating an efficient school. The success of our school system depends upon their ability, forethought, and wise planning. They work with the superintendent to provide the best opportunities that the community and state can offer the pupils who attend our schools.

Punxsutawney High School is now a fully accredited member of the Middle States Association of Schools and Colleges. Its pupils may be admitted, upon recommendation of the principal, to any college or university that admits students without an entrance examination. We are aware that the guiding principles of the administration are, in a large measure, responsible for having met the requirements of admission to this association. We wish to express our appreciation to the Board of Education for the part they had in making such an opportunity possible. The officers are: President, John M. Harvey; Vice-President, James M. Coble; Secretary, D. R. Thomas; Treasurer, George P. Grube.

Administration

Punxsutawney High School is no longer a little red schoolhouse but a large, efficient business establishment where the activities of 1,300 people must be coordinated. The object of our establishment is the education of the pupil.

From the time a pupil enters our doors, his course of study is carefully checked and followed until the day he graduates. Counselors spend hours consulting with the individual pupil, then advise him the course best suited to his ability. Even before he graduates, he meets with the guidance directors who advise him as to the college course or work he expects to enter after his graduation from the local school.

We are well equipped to meet the needs of the pupil. There are classrooms, laboratories, typing rooms, gymnasium, library, offices, auditorium, home economics rooms, art rooms, and shops. In addition to the classroom activities we offer the student experience in various club activities, which include the publishing of a yearbook, a school newspaper, the production of high school plays, and schedules in football and basketball teams.

As a whole, the plan in Punxsutawney High School is designed to give each student an adequate preparation for the future, whether he intends furthering his education or not.

OFFICES

Our school offices are the very nerve centers of our school. Daily through their hands passes the business and recordings of the students who attend Punxsutawney High School. Grades, attendance, records, and schedules pour through in a steady stream. It is here that the activities of the faculty, administration, and students are co-ordinated. It is from these offices that we receive directions which make our school run on schedule.

"Science and art belong to the world, and before them vanish the barriers of nationality."

Our school provides for us a program of science planned to include every pupil. One year of general science and one year of mathematics are required. After this fundamental study, we may add the study of biology, plane geometry, solid geometry, trigonometry, physics and chemistry.

This program of science gives us a command of useful knowledge and an opportunity to practice the solution of problems. We learn to realize that results are sometimes failures because our reasoning is wrong.

Some of the sciences may be used as a hobby or pastime—a means of amusement; others give us a broader and deeper understanding of the influence of nature on man and the good and bad influences at work on the earth.

Both the natural and the exact sciences open up a highway to clear thinking. The study of science helps train us to fill places of usefulness in the world of today.

The study of the social sciences and geography helps a student to become an asset to his community, his state, and his nation.

Our government is controlled by the individual, who by his power of franchise controls the law-making bodies. Our government protects our property from criminals, maintains peace and order, changes old laws to new, and protects the interests and rights of all citizens. Isn't it easy to understand why the study of social science is so important?

In the freshman year civics and History of Pennsylvania are required subjects. In civics we learn the basic principles of state and national government, while the History of Pennsylvania teaches us the history of our state from the time of William Penn.

In the study of world history we learn the story of man's long stuggle from the beginning of time. Then we study American history which brings us up to our present day.

Economics and problems of democracy teach the student the relationship of land, labor, and capital. Closely related to these social and industrial histories is geography.

The English Department

The English department of Punxsutawney High School furnishes an important background for the student. In every profession, the knowledge of the correct usage of English is needed. In our English classes, we learn to think clearly and to express our thoughts in sentences that are well constructed. Also, we are taught to appreciate good literature.

We learn to sympathize with the characters in the books we read. We pity Dr. Manette in Tale of Two Cities; we understand Gaspard's hunger for revenge. When we read Emperor Jones, we are frightened and terrified. We wish that he may get safely out of the dark, shadowy forest. We want Brutus to know that he is making a mistake when he plots to kill Caesar. The characters that we read about seem like real people to us; they are old friends.

In our junior year, we begin to write organized themes. The mechanics of outlining become clear to us. Many of us form debating teams to consider important questions of the time. We learn to argue constructively.

The commercial students take a special course in business correspondence. They are taught to write clear, concise letters.

Our English teachers perform an important duty for us. They teach us the essentials of good speech. When, in later years, we look back to our high school days, we shall remember them with deep gratitude for the task they performed so faithfully and well.

Our school offers courses in Latin, French, and Spanish.

The study of foreign languages has many advantages. Besides giving us ability to read, write, and speak other languages, it helps us to make an acquaintance with the history and literature of the people in other countries.

Many of our students would find the English language more interesting if they had studied the foreign languages. Mastery of grammar is another accomplishment gained through the study of language.

Latin is of special importance for it teaches us to grasp the gist of meaning and derivation of new words.

Since French and Spanish are modern languages and have been used for years in international relations, we can easily understand their value.

Closely associated with the Language Department is the library, with its store house of rich material.

Commercial Department

The Commercial Department of Punxsutawney High School gives direct training for work after the high school education is completed.

Students of commercial subjects get a training in which they may develop certain skills that can be used while still in high school. It enables them to prepare assignments in other courses with greater ease. Those who plan to continue their education hope that their technical knowledge and skill will take some of the drudgery out of their college course, and that this training when added to academic and other professional courses will be an entree to good positions later on.

Recently the department has been enlarged and improved with the purchase of new office machines. A rotation plan is used by which the student learns to operate one kind of machine, then moves on to the next.

Other subjects are offered which serve as an introduction to actual business life. Business Law, for example, gives the right and duties of a person when in the business world. The entire department is under the able direction of Miss Mabel Monroe.

Music, Art, Home Economics

Students with unusual talent frequently select the field of Music as a vocation. Even if they select it as a hobby, they are sure to afford themselves much pleasure. The band and choir give excellent opportunity to all students who have a talent for that type of work. Besides being a source of pleasure, this work fills an important place in our school life. Nothing adds more to the daily life of our school than the music of our band.

Students who enroll in the Home Economics Department are taught to care for themselves. They are the future homemakers of tomorrow. They study family health as affected by food, clothing, and daily habits of living. This department teaches a girl to bake and cook, decorate homes, and design and make becoming costumes.

Closely related to the Home Economics Department is the Art Course. Its purpose is to develop the creative instinct which is strong in some of us. It is here that a student learns to decorate his house, recognize attractive color combinations, apply his talent, and develop art appreciation. No department does more for us than our Art Course.

"'Tis no sin for a man to labor in his vocation."

In the minds and bodies of some of us the creative instinct is strong. We love to do things with our hands; we enjoy seeing the finished products of our efforts. This type of man enjoys tearing apart and rebuilding anything mechanical. He delights in making houses, airplanes, and automobiles.

Our school offers opportunities in agriculture, industrial arts, auto mechanics, and machine shop—courses in which the purpose is the cultivation of these creative instincts. Boys are instructed how to use tools and machines correctly and to care for them. They learn to make articles equal in appearance and beauty to those found in the markets. They learn the value of skill in the different processes of construction. They learn to follow a trade they love.

Boys and girls who study vocational agriculture are fitting themselves to become the future farmers in our country. They study crops, livestock, and poultry. In addition to the classroom studies various projects, such as caring for gardens and raising livestock, are carried on at home. In this way they put into practice what they have learned in school. Students who study vocational agriculture are members of the Future Farmers of America whose primary aim is the development of agricultural co-operation, citizenship, and leadership.

Physical Education and Health

"The mind and body are inseparable."

The teaching of coordination between the mind and body largely constitutes the work of the Physical Education Department.

The keen competition brought out by football and basketball contests brings out the qualities which are hard to obtain in other phases of our school work. Taking the initiative is an important one; you must be one jump ahead if you expect to outplay the other fellow; otherwise you will be on the receiving end of the game. An athlete soon learns that he must be in the best physical condition before he can perform to the best of his ability. He learns that a mind which is alert is one which will function quickly. In athletic contests the players are entirely on their own, and the decisions are up to them. The ability of the player depends on how fast he can size up the situation at one glance and put his bodily efforts behind his decisions. All athletic contests have the same purpose—to teach us to work together, to play a clean game, and to show good sportsmanship in every act. Dancing, exercises, and games are other activities offered by the Physical Education Department.

A frequent check on the health of the students is carried on by a competent staff of school doctors, dentists, nurses, and a dental hygienist.

Doorway to Unity and Loyalty

The doors of the schools have watched us come and go through all the days of our training. Perhaps they, too, have wondered about us—we were so light-hearted and carefree. Were we putting our best efforts into our preparations for our future? As the end of our school life draws near, we begin to recall the past, thinking back over some of the basic principles we have learned here. Although we come from all corners of the county, and from adjoining counties, too, we have learned to live together, unified, and loyal to our school. The co-operation which the student learns to show in high school helps him when he steps into the outside world. The members of this class of 1947, and the classes which will follow, will carry with them a deep and abiding sense of loyalty to their school.

CLASSES

Senior Leaders

Robert Colkitt

Here they are, the leaders of our class. They are always found in the midst of some activity or planning some future project. They may always be seen around the school doing their work capably and efficiently.

Although all of us play some part in our memorable school activities, they are the leaders, the ones who set the pace both in curricular and extra-curricular activities, and who have done their utmost to uphold the traditions of our school. Throughout this year and other years, they have proven their efficiency and their outstanding ability in leadership and scholarship. Therefore, it is only natural that, when the time came to select those who are to be given the distinction of having their pictures placed among the Senior Leaders, they have been chosen.

With great pleasure we dedicate these two pages of our 1947 Mirror to these seniors who have served our classmates and our school so diligently and have strived so hard to uphold the traditions of our school and to keep it one of the best, most democratic schools in this land.

Gene Heitzenrater presenting Class Hearts of '46 to Barbara Downie.

The presentation of the Class Hearts to some member of the Senior Class has long been a tradition of our school. The members of the Senior Class select the person to whom they wish to give the Hearts.

Underclassmen

Junior Class

The Juniors, who constitute "the backbone of the school," have just completed a very successful year with outstanding students in all fields. Over are the days when they were underclassmen. Now they are assuming the duties of school leaders. We Seniors leave what were our responsibilities to them with the utmost trust.

"At last we're in senior high school." That's what the sophomores are voicing with sheer joy. They show promise of a great class. The sophomore party was their very own. The outstanding athletes that the Sophomore Class has turned out promise Punxsutawney High School a brilliant future in all sports.

At the end of their first year in high school they show promise of developing into leaders who will proudly "carry on."

"Geeve a Cheer!"

Doorway to Responsibilities, Leadership, and Fellowship

The student learns to be responsible in his club membership by doing tasks for the welfare of the other members. He learns how to be a leader by helping to make decisions and by completing the work assigned to him. He is given responsible tasks that require leadership, and he tries his best to measure up to the trust placed in him. In the clubs and other organizations of the school, the student has fellowship with the other members. This fellowship shows him how to find joy in life and the happiness it offers to those willing to earn it. Wherever he goes after his high school days are over, he will need friends and companionship. The organizations of the school prepare him to make new friends. He will learn that to get along with people is a joy.

ORGANIZATIONS

Editorial Staff of The Mirror

The aim of a student yearbook is to present one year of school history, interestingly written, well illustrated, and permanently bound for future reference. This vast task is undertaken by the Editorial Staff of the Mirror.

Daily, throughout the year, the work on the yearbook goes ahead. When one year's book is completed, work is begun on the book for the coming year. Collecting the material is only a part of the task. Hundreds of pictures and identifications and thousands of words of copy must be checked and rechecked. This activity offers practical experience for those students interested in journalism.

During the summer months our staff photographers, Bob Lorenzo and Clarence Murray, were busy snapping informal shots and scenes of interest.

In September, Mr. Clark began photographing various groups. Then came the page layouts in the hands of the capable editor-in-chief, Jean Rankin. After all the material was written and collected, the staff typists began their work. Much credit should be given Naomi Jane Dunmire, Dorothy Galbraith, and Pauline Clark who worked diligently until their part of the work was completed. The work is under the direction of Mrs. Robinson and under the general supervision of Miss Boles.

Our job is now finished and we sincerely hope that you will find great enjoyment in the pages of your Mirror.

Three minutes between classes.

Business Staff of The Mirror

One of the busiest organizations in the high school is the Business Staff of the Mirror. While other clubs meet only once a month, this group must be constantly at work. One of their chief duties is to estimate the cost of producing a yearbook. They must prepare a budget for the Mirror. Often three or four sample budgets must be made before a satisfactory one is secured. They collect and record receipts and disbursements of Mirror funds, and act as a circulating staff when the Mirror is ready for distribution. They must then see that the specified number of copies is sent to the various homerooms. Each advertiser must be represented in the advertising section of the Mirror. Contacts with local business establishments are made by members of the staff who use their best salesmanship to achieve their goal—advertisements.

The members of the business staff get actual experience in letter writing through their correspondence with the book binders and engravers.

As usual, the work this year was performed with a great deal of efficiency.

The Business Staff is composed of twelve students who willingly co-operate with their adviser, Miss Bowers. Louise Hoch deserves special credit for the responsibility she assumed as the manager of this year's staff.

Ruby, Theola, and Betty balance their books.

Seated: R. Wilson, A. Wolfgang, J. Snyder, Miss Neil. Standing: L. J. Reid, J. Staples, E. White, S. Lydick, D. Rupp, M. Dickson, B. Brown, N. Chapman, J. McMillen, J. Lamkie, E. Dilts, R. Bell, L. Gross, F. Dilts. Cut: Miss Niel, M. Dickson.

Hi-Lights Staff

Constantly at work is the Hi-Lights Staff, hunting for ideas to develop and improve their publication. Last year, the dreams of the entire staff almost became a reality when the Hi-Lights was placed second in the anual Pennsylvania School Press contest, but the staff will not be satisfied until the paper is placed first.

The Editor-in-chief of the Hi-Lgihts is Marjorie Dickson, with Joyce Snyder, Ruby Wilson, and Evelyn Dilts serving as associate editors. Eugene Carrick, Doris Rupp, and Shirley Lydick are the sports editors. Staff writers include Charles Broring, Leba Gross, Anna Brown, Frieda Dilts, Phebe Smith, Barbara Kessler, Barbara Clark, Joan Lamkie, Lois Jean Reid, Eldavee White, and Almeda Wolfgong. Miss Niel supervises the staff, and Mr. Clark has charge of the photography.

Members of the staff meet on Friday in the activities period and usually on Wednesday after school. Moreover, they meet practically every day informally to discuss their varied assignments. Work is not completed when articles are handed in to be printed. The dummy copy must be corrected, make-up must be planned, and the final copy must be proof-read. Students who do not know much about their school paper should ask a member of the staff to explain the principles of journalism, for it is the duty of each student to give his suggestions for the improvement of the school's paper.

New faces in P.H.S.

Seated: D. Hetrick, E. Dilts, S. Lydick, Miss Brown, L. Nairn, J. Rankin. Standing: R. Wilson, R. Lindsey, B. Cole, R. Chilcott, G. Himes.

The Olympic Council

The twelve members of the P.H.S. Olympic Council gather around Minerva, Miss Brown, as sponsor once each month in the home of one of the gods or goddesses, just as Jupiter of old called the twelve members of his council together. Laura Diana Nairnibus rules the minds of the council; in her absence Rubia Ceres Wilsonibus presides. Genevievia Morphia Himelia makes an accurate record of all proceedings of the council and Shirlea Hebes Lydix guards the wealth of the treasury with the hand of a goddess. Minerva holds the throne and hurls the thunderbolts as did the Roman Jupiter.

The Fulmen-Jovis is published by the council in recognition of Jupiter, the father of all gods and of men. This publication is characteristic of the Chief Deity in that it carries some of Jupiter's thunderbolts which stab the senior gods and goddesses of the council at the end of the year. The august deities hold an annual banquet at which are served modern nectar and ambrosia, the diet of the gods.

The purpose of the Olympic Council is to further in P.H.S. the interest in Latin by the co-ordination of the gods and goddesses.

Le Cercle Francais

The members of Le Cercle Francais, popularly known as the French Club, are students who are interested in studying the people and customs of France. To be eligible for membership, a student must have completed his first year of French.

Meetings, except the first one, are held in the homes of the various members. The business meetings are usually conducted in French.

Corresponding with students in France and reading Le Petit Journal aid the members in keeping up to date with the news and life of modern France.

The officers for the club are: President, Nancy London; vice-president, Thomas McCormick; secretary-treasurer, Billy Ott. The faculty sponsor for the club is Miss Helen Mankovich.

Projects are due!

Pan-American Club

The Pan-American Club, under the very capable leadership of Mrs. Strachan, is open to any student who is taking either Spanish I or Spanish II.

The meetings of the club are held in school on the first Friday of each month, except for one social meeting each year which is held in the home of one of the members.

The purpose of the club is to supplement the work of the classroom in developing an appreciation of the customs and the culture of the Spanish American countries through social activities.

The officers are: President, Lester McGonagle; vice president, Joe Harrick; secretary, Marcella Zeedick; treasurer, Charles Krouse.

Thespian Society

The Thespian Society takes a prominent place in providing entertainment for the pupils of Punxsutawney schools. This club has been in existence for twenty years. During this time, the members have produced excellent plays. The purpose of Thespian Society is to develop an interest in dramatics. No insignia for Thespian is worn during the school year; but, on Class Day, a Thespian pin is awarded to each Senior member that has merited this pin by gaining a certain number of points as actor, student director, property manager, and prompter.

This year the Thespian Society presented the following chapel plays: Fingerbowls and Araminta, Farewell, Cruel World, Christmas for the Duchess, Bridge as the Ladies Play It, Who Says Can't, and There's Always Tomorrow. The casts of Fingerbowls and Araminta and Farewell, Cruel World are almost professionals. Fingerbowls and Araminta has been presented six times. In the exchange of programs between schools, it was given at Brookville. Farewell, Cruel World has been given five times.

The directors of these chapel plays are members of the Thespian Society that volunteer to coach a cast for a chapel play. The casts for the plays are chosen by the student directors and are approved by Miss Boles. In each home room, students with ability in dramatics are urged by Thespian members to sign for participation in plays.

When the directors are choosing their cast, they call in for tryouts students that have their names on this list. Usually a week is spent in casting different students for each part. After the cast has been chosen, work begins in earnest. There is practice every evening after school and a dress rehearsal the night before the play is to be given in chapel.

All Thespians look forward to the annual high school play. The best actors in P.H.S. are chosen for this presentation.

Miss Boles is the capable faculty adviser for the Thespian Society.

The president of the Thespian Society is Doris Hritz; the vice-president, Gloria Petrick; the secretary-treasurer, Nancy London.

"Ever Since Eve"

Since the high school play, "Ever Since Eve," was not presented until April 25, it was impossible to secure a picture.

Bob Morris and Barbara Kessler headed the cast, which included Raymond Lindsay, Nancy London, Joann Staples, Nancy Zufall, Barbara Clark, Dan Crissman, Don Schmidt, Bob Colkitt, Joe Harrick, Dick Reitz, Kearney Neal, Burke Maze, and Bill Cole.

Clarence Murray acted as prompter, Donabell Kinter as property mistress, and Helene Smith as assistant property mistress. Miss Dorothy Niel was director.

Library Club

The purpose of the Library Club is to stimulate interest in the library and to improve the library service of the school. The club is composed of twenty-five students who work in the library assisting with routine duties. This group is made up of students who voluntarily signify their desire to join. To become a member one should have an appreciation of books, love for reading, and a desire for literary improvement. Miss Mary J. Fenton supervises the group which meets the third Friday of every month.

Officers of the club are: President, Ruth Senser; vice-president, Mable Robertson; secretary, Elizabeth Sibley; treasurer, Audrey Kann.

Ushers' Club

The Ushers' Club is one of the most helpful clubs in P.H.S. At any home football game, basketball game, play, concert, or other school activity, these boys may be seen directing their work with speed and efficiency. The club has no social activity and membership is voluntary, the new members being voted in by the standing members of the club. The club has gained the appreciation and respect of the student body by the willingness and faithfulness with which they work.

The members of the club follow the directions of their faculty adviser, Mr. Boyd, who, in the past nine years, has capably sponsored the club.

The officers of the club are: Tom Williams, president; Don Barnoff, vice-president; Eugene Shick, treasurer.

Science Club

Since science has become one of the most important factors in our present way of life, it is only right that we should find interest in scientific research. The Science Club was organized to give its members a better knowledge of scientific problems and to promote interest in this field. By demonstrating advanced experiments and by presenting moving pictures and lectures on scientific subjects, the Science Club offers much more information than it is possible to obtain in the classroom.

This year, each club member prepared a project to be exhibited at the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh. For the first time, the club has become a member of the national organization of Science Clubs of America.

The Science Club meets once a month and is capably sponsored by Mr. Sherk and Mr. Mitchell. The officers are: President, Thomas Boyer; vice-president, Raymond Lindsay; secretary, Laura Jayne Nairn; and treasurer, Francis Bish.

Camera Club

The Camera Club is an organization of high school students who are interested in photography. Under the guidance of Mr. Clark, members have an opportunity of discussing various technical details of photography and working with numerous pieces of photographic equipment.

The purpose of the club is to improve the students' ability to take pictures, and to give those who wish it an opportunity to learn the process of developing and printing pictures. A visual aid section was organized this year to help teachers with projection equipment used in the classrooms.

Many students have profited greatly from the activities of this club.

The officers are: President, Dick Reitz; vice president, Mary Catherine Gaston; secretary-treasurer, Tom Williams. Their sponsor is Mr. Clark.

Future Homemakers of America

Shirley, Eleanor, and Jean decorating for a school party.

A local chapter of the national organization, Future Homemakers of America, has been organized by students who are enrolled in homemaking classes in the high school. The club has been named the Chuckette Chapter of Future Homemakers. Fifty-three members attended the initiation and induction service which was held in September.

Frances Smith is serving her second year as president of the club and Romayne Marshall was re-elected secretary; Ruth Miller is vice-president and Phyllis Alcorn, treasurer. Hazel Caylor, the historian of the club, has prepared a scrapbook which contains a record of the club activities. The officers serve for the entire school year.

A club representative, Marian Kennedy, was sent to the state rally at Wellsboro, Pennsylvania, in April, 1946. Plans are being made to send several representatives to the state rally this year.

There are four degrees of membership in the club; pins and emblems for these degrees are awarded on the basis of merit. The program of work for 1946-47 as outlined by the National Future Homemakers' Association has for its theme Future Homemakers of America Build for Tomorrow. Local clubs will carry out this theme through their activities for the year.

Miss Edna M. Pifer, homemaking instructor, is the club sponsor.

Future Farmers of America

The aims of this worthy organization are: the development of agrciultural leadership, co-operation, and citizenship; the creation of a love for country life; and assistance to members in becoming established farmers.

The officers of the Chuckberk Chapter of the F.F.A. are: President, George Work; Vice President, Dick Yount; Secretary, Mildred Reed; Treasurer, Elvin Snyder. Don Knox is reporter and Mr. William Mechling is the sponsor. The group is justly proud of Harry Sherry, who is a member of the National Band made up of boys from the Future Farmers of America organizations.

The members have taken trips to other farming areas, to State College, and to the Farm Products Show in Harrisburg. Throughout the year they have participated in county, state, and national F.F.A. events.

Shirley, Joyce, and Jean add their magic touch.

Senior Tri-Hi-Y

Remember the girls that sold refreshments at the football games? They are members of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y. These girls, during the year, also sold football programs, pennants, and pencils on which the basketball schedule was printed. The Tri-Hi-Y supports the Y.M.C.A. projects such as the campaign for the International Youth Fund.

The activities of the club are planned by the cabinet which is appointed by the president, Genevieve Himes. Myrna Depp, the vice-president, is in charge of the worship service at all meetings. The ideal of these girls is to live a useful Christian life. Much emphasis is placed on their worship periods as shown in their assembly program on World Day of Prayer. The secretary is Ethel Glass; and the treasurer, Mary Margaret Allsip. The adviser and sponsor of the club is Mrs. George West.

Each pupil, when he enters Punxsutawney High School, is urged to find some congenial activity aside from his classes and to identify himself with it. A number of girls select the Tri-Hi-Y organizaton.

The Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y is made up of forty members, with Mrs. Jean Smith as adviser for the group. This year, the girls sponsored a dance and at Christmas time collected gifts for needy families.

The officers for this year are: President, Marie Montgomery; vice-president, Marcella Anderson; secretary, Barbara Kesslar; treasurer, Mary Kephart.

Commercial Club

If you are interested in typing, salesmanship, bookkeeping, and the use of office machines, the Commercial Club offers many attractions for you. At the monthly meeting guest speakers often discuss the problems of the business world. In addition to the regular meetings, there is a social side. A program committee is appointed at the beginning of the year to plan the meetings for the entire term.

Stage Crew

The stage crew is an organization about which very little is known; yet behind every play, concert, or operetta, the stage crew is there, working efficiently. The duties of the stage crew are many and varied. Upkeep of the stage, handling of equipment, stage lighting, scene shifting, and management of equipment for rehearsals are just a few of their duties. Membership in the stage crew means the expenditure of a great deal of time.

This year's stage crew has worked efficiently under the careful supervision of their sponsor, Mr. Wilson, who has given freely of his time in order that we might enjoy the right stage effect at the right time.

Time out!

To the members of the stage crew, John Hallman, Bill Startzell, Lowell Peoples, Eugene Shick, Tom Heckendorn, Carl Depp, Jim Barilar and their sponsor, Mr. Wilson, we offer our hearty thanks.

Senior Cheerleaders

Attractively dressed in red sweaters and white skirts, Punxsutawney's yell artists led many a cheer for our football and basketball teams.

These peppy girls are led by Marilyn Brown, head cheerleader. They have worked long after school hours to attain such skills as they exhibit at our athletic contests.

The students heartily congratulate this group for their faithful and capable performances. Hats off! to Mrs. Bortz who sponsored the group.

Clubs

Each pupil, when he enters P.H.S., is urged to find some congenial activity aside from his classes and to identify himself with it. Here under the sympathetic guidance of some teacher, he will be able to learn much from his fellow members.

While there are some students who do not become active in extra-curricular work, most wide-awake students are eager for the opportunities which a club will afford them.

The student organizations willingly help to promote worth-while activities. Some clubs are especially noted for their undertakings.

Those students that participate in extra-curricular activities are the ones who obtain the most enjoyment from their school days. They have a wider scope of enjoyment and a larger group of friends.

All students of P.H.S. are eligible for some club and would profit by association with them.

Doorway to Fair Play and Sportsmanship

Our football team learns to play fairly even though it brings defeat. This lesson in fair play applies not only to sports, but to life in general. Fair play is needed in every phase of life, for indeed, where would the world be if fair play were never practiced? We learn to work together, to play a clean game, and to show good sportsmanship. The training we receive here makes us honest and strong. To have a team, you must have the guidance of ones who know the game, and know how to teach it to others—these are our ever-faithful coaches. The good sportsmanship of our school is commended by all who come in contact with it. So, as we go out in the world, we intend to keep these high ideals. No one can afford to be without these valuable assets. The sports of P.H.S. are synonymous with the expressions fair play and good sportsmanship.

Football

"Three won, two tied, and five lost"—that is the record compiled by this year's Punx'y eleven. Under the coaching of Mr. Harrick, Punx'y's capable coach, the Woodchucks were found short of experience and size but ranked high in morale, cooperation, and sportsmanship. With only ten Varsity men from last year and thirty-eight new boys, Coach Harrick accomplished a wonderful job of whipping them into a team.

RIDGWAY

September 7—The Chucks neatly opened the season on September 7 by defeating Ridgway 13-0 at Ridgway. Maze made the first touchdown in the first quarter when he took a punt from Ridgway on Punxy's 45 and picking up his blockers reversed his field and dashed 55 yards for a touchdown. Nase then converted on a beautiful pass from Cole. Late in the third quarter, Cole intercepted a pass and thus set the stage for Punxy's next touchdown. When Punx'y made a first down on Ridgway's three, with Harrick picking up only a yard on a right tackle plunge, Cole took the ball on a reverse and scored. Cole's pass to Maze for the extra point was incomplete.

SYKESVILLE

September 13—The Chucks fought a hectic game with Sykesville at Harmon Field and hit the jackpot in the final 10 seconds of the game to win with a 7-0 score. Through the first four quarters the teams were equally balanced and neither team threatened seriously. Bill Cole set up the touchdown by intercepting Fugate's pass on Sykesville's 25. Then after throwing two incomplete passes, Cole rifled one to Reitz, who took it on the two yard line and stepped across to score. Then Punx'y's hard hitting fullback, Joe Harrick, scored the extra point on a center plunge.

KITTANNING

On September 20, before a drenched crowd at Harmon Field, the Chucks defeated Kittanning 6-0 for their third straight win. The stage was set when Punx'y recovered a fumble on Kittanning's 10 by Kittanning's fullback, Glenn Wolfe. In the following plays, Nase, Cole, and Harrick picked up eight yards and then Punx'y's fullback, Joe Harrick, slammed through the center for a touchdown early in the first quarter. Cole's pass to Nase was incomplete and the rest of the game failed to produce a score.

CURWENSVILLE

September 28—The Chucks were pulled out of the ranks of the undefeated at Curwensville by a score of 27-20. Early in the first quarter Ammerman took a pass from Fox and lateraled to Olson who scored for Curwensville. Olson plunged for the extra point. Harrick then scored for Punx'y on a line plunge and a pass from Cole to Nase tied the score. In the second quarter Fox scored on an off-tackle play and Olson plunged for the extra point. Olson, in the third quarter in an off center play, scored for Curwensville and Hone plunged for the extra point. Harrick then scored for Punx'y and fumbled the ball in the plunge for the extra point. In the third quarter Punx'y's safety batted a long pass from Fox into the waiting hands of Bresslen, who scored their final touchdown. Hone was held as he tried to make the extra point. Nase then scored on an end-run after Punx'y had marched 70 yards. Cole hit the line for the extra point. Cole's brilliant 45-yard run for a touchdown after intercepting a pass was called back because of off-sides.

INDIANA

October 4—5,000 local fans saw Indiana beat Punx'y 27-7. Indiana scored first in the second quarter after an 80-yard drive. Stahura scored both the touchdown and extra point on plunges. In the third quarter Mancuso scored on a left-end run. Stahura fumbled on the try for the extra point. Bahnt scored again after another left-end run. The Friel to Bahnt pass was good for the extra point. In the fourth quarter Stahura lugged the ball over for their final touchdown, and Friel's pass to Bonarrigo picked up the extra point. The Chucks' only score came later when Heitzenrater recovered Kerr's fumble. Maze took Harrick's pass on the six and went over standing up. A double lateral with Cole on the end scored the extra point for Punx'y. Paul Nase, Punx'y's halfback, sustained a back injury in the game and was admitted to the Adrian Hospital.

CLEARFIELD

October 11—The Chucks, scoring late in the fourth quarter immediately after Clearfield had tallied, gained a 7-7 tie with a fighting Bison in a contest at Clearfield. Bad breaks again plagued the Chucks in the form of two touchdown runs by Burke Maze that were called back.

FRANKLIN

October 18—Rated underdogs for the Franklin fray, the Chucks gained a moral victory for themselves by holding a powerful Franklin eleven to a 14-14 tie. Again bad breaks cost the Chucks a victory. A 75 yard touchdown run by Bill Cole was nullified by a tripping penalty against the Chucks.

OSCEOLA MILLS

October 25—A scrappy Osceola Mills team outplayed the Chucks in a downpour of rain to earn themselves a 7-6 victory. Joe Harrick pushed over from the one yard line to score Punx'y's only touchdown. Elwood Latz, the only standout back of the evening, in combination with Punx'y's fumbles, was the main factor in Osceola's victory.

FORD CITY

November 2—After displaying brilliant defense ball the first half, the Chucks lost their scrap in the last half to bow 13-0 to Ford City. Scoring once in the third quarter and once in the fourth quarter accounted for Ford City's tallies. The Chucks' only offensive push was in the third quarter, but it fell short of "pay dirt" by two feet.

DUBOIS

November 11—DuBois 20-Punx'y 7. That is how the score stood at the end of the twenty-third Punx'y-DuBois game. The Beavers scored early in the game on an intercepted lateral and then pushed over two touchdowns in the final quarter. The Chucks scored their only tally in the second quarter on a pass from Bill Cole to Burke Maze. Punx'y threatened throughout the entire game, with their strong aerial attack, but DuBois' superior power on the ground proved to be the deciding factor at the end. Although they were behind, the Chucks still showed that they had spirit left by staging a 65-yard drive that was ended by the umpire's watch on the Beaver 5 yard line, second down and goal to go.

Basketball

Under the leadership of their new coach, Mr. Binney, the Punxsutawney High School basketball team, on December 6 opened their 1946-47 season, which was destined to be the most successful in nine years.

Veterans from last year's regular team were Burke Maze, Jules Wazelle, Deemer Matts, Jim VanDyke, and Bill Cole. The team was strengthened by strong substitutes. Also back from last year were Bill Ott, Bob Colkitt, and Bill Beezer. New members to the squad were Leroy Hetager, Delbert Reitz and Dick Sprankle.

Dec. 6—The Chucks opened their 1946-47 basketball season with a 46-35 victory over a strong East Brady team. Maze, Cole, and VanDyke were high scorers with 14, 13, and 12 points respectively.

Dec. 10—The Punx'y courtmen came "from behind" in the second half to take a game from Indiana 21 to 18. Wazelle played an excellent defensive game and Maze and Cole were strong on offense, each with six points.

Dec. 13—The P.H.S. team was handed its first defeat by Bradford to the tune of 45 to 28. The Chucks led Bradford for nineteen minutes of the thirty-two minute game, but Bradford's height soon wore the Punx'y courtmen down. Maze was high scorer for Punx'y with 8 points.

Dec. 18—The Chucks opened their home season with a 37 to 25 victory over Hollidaysburg. VanDyke was high scorer with 11 points.

Jan. 3—Punx'y played host to Indiana's "Indians" and presented them with a 34 to 25 defeat. Both teams turned in a poor performance. Jules Wazelle was high scorer with 10 points.

Jan. 7—The Chucks dropped a heart breaker to Hollidaysburg by the score 38 to 36 in a return engagement. The game was nip and tuck up to the last two seconds. Matts was high scorer for Punx'y with 14 points.

Jan. 10—In the first battle of the A League, Punx'y defeated its traditional rival, DuBois, 33 to 28. Jim VanDyke and Bob Colkitt were Punx'y's big guns with 12 points each.

Jan. 17—The Chucks turned the tables on Clearfield to win the league title, by handing them a 43 to 25 defeat. Jimmy VanDyke turned in a brilliant performance by tallying 22 points. The victory put the Chucks in a first-place tie with Brookville.

Jan. 21—The Chucks, turning in their worst performance of the year, were handed a 26 to 25 set back by East Brady.

Jan. 24—Punx'y took over undisputed first place in the "A" League by knocking off the Red Raiders of Brookville 45 to 30. The Chucks established a lead in the second and third quarters and then eased into the final victory. VanDyke again was high scorer with 13 points.

Jan 28—Punx'y made it four straight in the league competition when they knocked off DuBois 35 to 26. Deemer Matts was high scorer with 17 points, 12 of which were scored in the last quarter.

Jan. 31—Punx'y again defeated Clearfield, but only by two points in a hot contest that ended 28 to 26. Responsible for the victory were Deemer Matts and Burke Maze.

Feb. 1—The Chucks bowed to Sykesville in a benefit game for the Infantile Paralysis Fund by a score of 36 to 29.

Feb. 5—The Chucks increased their lead to two full games ahead of Brookville, when they turned back the Red Raiders 39 to 26. VanDyke led the scorers with 14 points.

Feb. 7—As they chalked up their seventh victory in "A" League competition, the Chucks had little trouble in defeating DuBois 28 to 18. Jim VanDyke was high scorer with 21 points.

Feb. 11—Punx'y added another victory to their record by defeating Clearfield 33 to 25. They opened up with a strong attack in the second half to out-score Clearfield by 10 points in the third quarter.

Feb. 14—Brookville tops Chucks. P.H.S. was handed its first defeat by an "A" League team when the Red Raiders took their mark by a score of 31 to 30. Deemer Matts scored Punx'y's last eight points to keep them in the ball game.

Feb. 18—Punx'y defeated DuBois 29 to 25 to take their fourth game from DuBois. Jim VanDyke was top scorer with 11 points.

Feb. 21—The Chucks topped Clearfield 35 to 21. By beating Clearfield the Chucks captured the "A" League championship in District 9, for the first time in nine years.

Feb. 28—The Chucks closed their scheduled season with a 47 to 35 victory over Brookville. Matts, Maze, and Cole were high scorers with 12, 11, and 10 points respectively.

March 15—The Chucks met Bradford at Kane and suffered a 36 to 30 defeat. The Chucks took an early lead, but a bad second quarter in which they were outscored, 11 to 4, spelled defeat. Bob Colkitt, Punx'y center, played a bang-up game, but "Pack" Morris of Bradford turned in the best performance of the evening.

Goodwill, an intangible asset to business men and to our school, has manifested itself in the enthusiastic reports of the cordial manner in which members of the Mirror's Business Staff were received when they were selling advertising space in the 1947 Mirror.

We, the Business Staff, wish to express our sincere appreciation to the business men of Punxsutawney and surrounding communities who have helped to make possible this book.

Patrons

Many generous contributions were received this year from friends of Punxsutawney High School. Although their names do not apear within the pages of our Mirror, neither they nor their generous contributions will be forgotten.

The Business Staff on behalf of the entire student body takes this opportunity to say a very sincere "Thank you."

My dearest Joey,

I'll always remember all the good times we had together this year. You are my best girlfriend and I love you very much. You're a very sweet & cute girl. I'll never forget the first night you were with Tom - (Bad) He had fun but I don't like him anymore, Bill's mine. Then Jim and saw Bill. We had more fun with him than anyone else. Remember all our double dates? I'll never forget the Church, library, duck pond and perfume.
